What We Do

Technology Development

In order to provide accurate, reliable, and effective solutions to address our customers' needs, our scientists and laboratory technologists are on the leading edge of research employing Liquid Chromatography Mass Spectrometry (LC MS) technology and Dried Spot (DS) sample collection techniques to provide solutions with unrivalled accuracy, reliability, and ease of use.

Clinical Laboratory Services

Our Clinical Lab Services combine the versatility and extensive capability of both CE MS and LC MS technology with well-established and effective collection techniques. We are committed to providing unparalleled diagnostic accuracy and reliability in a limitless array of possible tests. We focus on the areas of Toxicology, Health & Wellness, and Concussion Management.

These services are available in the retail healthcare area, in commercial laboratories, and in hospitals allowing our customers to deliver leading edge healthcare and diagnostic solutions to their patients ensuring informed and well-managed decisions for optimal patient outcomes.

Specialty Animal Diagnostics

Seroclinix Animal Diagnostics is focused on diagnostic solutions for animal health, wellness, and reproduction. Using LC MS and Dried Spot sample collection techniques, Seroclinix provides diagnostic lab services in the small animal, bovine, and equine market place. For in-office or animal-side testing we offer cost-effective, easy to use Point-Of-Care systems. Our tests provide fast, accurate, and reliable results allowing veterinarians, breeders, farmers, and owners to better care for their animals.

Our test menu includes Progesterone, Cortisol, SDMA, HbA1c
